

OBJECTS TO THE CLUB.

A Correspondent Writes of the Conservatives.

A Pen Picture of "We, the People,"
A Brilliant Word-Corner Discusses the Future.

MR. EDITOR:—It always gives us pleasure to agree with our political opponents, when we can do so conscientiously, so when the stockholders and directors of the Hilo Tribune undertake to pillory their quondam editor and then tumble over one another in their haste to disavow and repudiate the sentiments expressed in that paper's last issue—sentiments which were but the logical outcome of their own course—we can but congratulate our friends on their conversion, even though their announcement comes a day behind the fair.

Gentle reader, there has been wailing and nashing of teeth among the elect of the Conservative Club. The apothecised plantation magnates have taken the matter in hand and the riot act has been read to their not too subservient editor. We are given to understand that he is to be removed, and that there is to be a change of policy. Poor weakling—

If so soon it was to be done for, we wonder what it was begun for.

But we are assured that there will be a rehabilitation of the Tribune as a factor in sugar politics that, Phoenix-like, it will rise once more from amid the ashes, and, with another editor, bridled, bitted and curbed, with the reins held taut—the one from the Olympus of Wainaku, the other from the Valhalla of Waiakea—take up again the slogan, as it did in the beginning, that "The Tribune is in for annexation, when it can be shown that the same is desired by the larger interests of the country," or that "the Government must continue the importation of cheap labor," for

The Chinese and the Japs are the best labor by far, and the scrubs that are worthless will do for Oiaa, for sugar's the only salvation.

Away then, ye sneering cynics, begone with those frigid brows and curling lips, the Hilo Tribune has not like Jonah's gourd sprung up in a single night, rather from the mighty brains of the Jupiters of the Conservative Club. Is not its existence sufficient guarantee of the good accomplished in those beautifully benign and peaceful Saturday night meetings, from which all disturbing influences have been barred, and is not the Tribune's policy but the echo of noble sentiments and holy exhortations of the club's many (sic) gifted actors?

And so, copies of the Hilo Tribune will prove in eager demand, inasmuch as they may be expected to faithfully depict, portray and describe those instructive and entertaining meetings of the Conservative Club, behind the guarded portals of the hash factory De Vierra, where as a rule doth gather the sacred and select conclave of intellectual giants, and sitting in secret session, determines and controls the destinies of the nation, mayhap whilom knight of the hammer and chisel now descends in sequedicalics on the injustice and jealousy of hated Honolulu against poor Hilo, others hasten to assert their claim to ambiguous rank by theses on self government, which no one understands, or, just think of it ye shades of Comus, discussing banking projects, and if it so happens that after all these flights of fancy, there still happens to remain a member not snoring in sonorous cadence a rhythmic accompaniment to the fray, laying a train which is to explode and remove more detested Government officials. Oh, it is an intellectual arena, this of the Consecutive Club and if the gladiators are few, there still remains the Tribune to whoop this up.

That North Kona, or Hamakua, Kohala, the two Konas, Kau, Puna with its mass of voters, that the mass of the voters of this district should desire to express some voice in the disposition of questions affecting the body politic, is an impudent assumption of arrogance which the Conservative Club must resent. We, the forty members of our club, are the people. The Conservative Club and its organ, the Tribune, represent the "large and varied interests." The faithful are expected to bend the knee in reverence before it, and those who are wise in their generation will not fail to secure for themselves advantages which can only be acquired by affiliation with an organization having such an exclusive possession of all the cardinal virtues and talents.

among the members of the Conservative Club, we may look forward to the first issue of the Tribune under the new policy of unequivocal declarations, subscribing fealty to that cause.

But what evokes most joyful approval, is the summary disposition to be made of A. B. L. The fiat has just gone forth. No more will the fiend and notorious A. B. L. be permitted through the columns of the Tribune, to force a show of hands or sling ink at hated foe. With one fell swoop are now removed the means which enabled him to capture the pelladium of the enemy and thus snatch victory from defeat, as in the late Senatorial election. Pau, now are his hopes of winning fame and immortality under the protecting aegis of the Tribune's stockholders. It was A. B. L. est delendum, and now does he sit in darkened chamber, wrestling with the bitter thought that for such as dare to contend for the rights of the people against the divine right that doth hedge in the ego of domineering vengeance there is the swift and awful retribution of boycott, that hereafter there will use no tinterette or velesques kailbock to paint on gorgeous covers the historic scenes attending these great victories over Conservative Club methods, at three different elections, or if that fine effect of A. B. L. leading his cohorts of the horny fisted sons of toil, the great unwashed, in review past the hotel de Vierra to the admiring gaze and pleasure of the geni of the Conservative Club.

And so with confusion to the enemies of the club, hurrah for the club's new organ the resuscitated Tribune.

The Circus.

The announcement of the final performance by the Wirth Circus Company has been made, and Mr. Wirth has extended thanks to the public for its liberal patronage. Tonight will be the last night, and a very elaborate program is promised.

Little Muriel will, by special request, repeat her serpentine dance, in which she scored such a success on Monday night. The dress worn by the little miss was made by a Honolulu dressmaker and contains seventy-five yards of silk. The great leaping act will be repeated, and Mr. Wirth will perform for the first time in six years. He will do the spring-board leap and attempt to beat Lahl Sing in this wonderful feat.

The Legislature.

The Legislature will convene in the Council chamber in the Executive building at 12 o'clock noon today. The ceremony at the opening will be rather different from the last, inasmuch as the President will formally open the session, and there will be a number of invited guests, diplomats and others present. The band will be in attendance.

THE PROPER TIME

When the most benefit is to be derived from a good medicine, is early in the year. This is the season when the tired body, weakened organs and nervous system yearn for a building-up medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Many wait for the open spring weather and, in fact, delay giving attention to their physical condition so long that a long siege of sickness is inevitable. To rid the system of the impurities accumulated during the winter season, to purify the blood and to invigorate the whole system, there is nothing equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. Don't put it off, but take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It will do you good. Read the testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla, all form reliable, grateful people. They tell the story.

AN AMERICAN PLAN.

A Sojourner Lured Into Pauahi Street.

Pays for His Lodging and Then Bounced. Beaten With Bamboo Sticks and Then Choked.

Alexander Greig, Egyptian, occupation, dock laborer, was at the station house last night as prosecutor of two Japanese who had assaulted him in a room on Pauahi street.

Greig showed evidences of pretty rough handling; his throat was scratched and his head bruised in two or three places, and he was minus his shirt, vest and $3.50.

His story to an ADVERTISER reporter was to the effect that as he was on his way home walking out King street last night he was accosted by a Japanese and asked if he would not like to be introduced to some of the belles on Pauahi street. Greig said he was not anxious as he was in a hurry to get home and read his Koran.

But the Japanese evidently pictured the thing in such glowing colors that the Egyptian weakened and accompanied his tempter to the Whitechapel district.

The place proved to be a lodging house, and Aleck paid $3.50 for his lodging until 5 a.m., at which hour he was to be called so that he could go the dock and work all day for a dollar and a half.

He had partly disrobed when a little brown Jap broke in on the privacy of the room and inquired what his intentions were. Greig replied that he proposed to sleep out his $3.50, and, before he could even make a complaint as the conveniences of the place, the Jap seized a bamboo stick and began to pummel him. He fought back until reinforcements arrived, and he called for help. William Widdifield, a half-caste, heard the call and ran into the house and, as Greig puts it, saved his life.

Police whistles were blown, and T. B. Murray, who was standing on Nuuanu street, ran to the house with the policemen and succeeded in capturing two Japanese. Four others who Greig says participated in the assault escaped.

The men arrested gave their names as Hoshimoto and "Jim." The former's wardrobe consisted of a handsome eoru malo and an expression of disgust. Jim is well known as a manipulator of bread at Horn's bakery, and bears a good reputation. Greig states that it was he who slashed at his throat.

Greig admitted taking a couple of glasses, but showed no signs of being drunk. The two Japs will have a hearing this morning on the charge of assault and battery.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pumps, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plovers, Railways and Hoists; also furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 20 miles.

Electric power being used saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

Where water power is available it costs nothing to generate Electric Power.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Cables, and all Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.
